

Simultaneous Interpretation

Access in the Chamber

A set of earphones is available at each seat in the Chamber to allow Members to access the simultaneous translation service. The earphones are plugged into a small box (pictured below) which has a volume control that can be turned up or down.

If Members want to use their own earphones/headphones they can unplug the earphones provided. Members are asked not to remove the Assembly provided earphones from the Chamber.

Accessing Simultaneous Interpretation by Members Contributing Remotely

Any Member contributing to a Plenary session remotely can access the interpretation service, if required, via a dedicated phone service.

Members should contact the Communications Office in B4, Parliament Buildings to get access to the phone number. You can contact the Communications Office on 028 90 521884 or by email info@niassembly.gov.uk.

Members will hear an automated voice welcoming them to the conference call and advising them that they are muted. They will then hear the translated audio from the Chamber.

Internal TV System

On Channel 1 (Plenary) viewers will hear the translated audio - that is to say viewers will hear English spoken at all times.

On Channel 2 (Broadcast – Plenary) viewers will hear audio from the Chamber as spoken.

External Web Stream

The external web stream for the Plenary available via <http://niassembly.tv> will carry the translated audio – that is to say viewers will hear English spoken at all times.
