

I think access to medicinal and therapeutic cannabis is a human right and that it should be legal to cultivate it as the expense of purchasing it on the black (or white or grey) market is unsustainable for the wellbeing of many working and middle class users. To even have to point this out astounds me with ridiculousness. The convoluted reasons why this hasn't happened are a disgrace to humanity, the community and civilised society. Why?!