

Dear Members,

I believe that it is the right of every person to decide whether they want to have an abortion or not. The state has no right to make that decision and is certainly proven to be incapable of looking after the unfortunately many unwanted children that the state has then to try and look after.

An abortion if undertaken early enough is only killing cells etc and there is no living baby with feelings thoughts etc.

Unlike the mother being forced to bring an unwanted child into the world.

Furthermore this child could be the result of an unhappy/ unwanted relationship, a one night fling or rape.

What gives you the right to ruin someone's life and make these decisions on people's behalf?

Your track record generally on running the important issues in this country is diabolical so you should not be let anywhere near such an important issue . At least you can reverse decisions on Sunday opening hours etc!!

If you held a referendum pro abortion would win handsomely .

If ever there was a case for return to Direct Rule this is it.
