

I greatly concerned about the powers of abortion being shifted to the Secretary of State. What a huge decision for anyone to make these life changing decisions. I have a personal experience of having two members of my family circle with disabilities. They have brought so much love to all that come in contact with them. One of these children's were told that their child would not see his teens but now is 37 yrs old. Medics can get this so wrong. Please please be extremely careful about bringing in legislation that can cause deep inequalities and ignore the rights of disabled children. You have a huge responsibility in your hands but this is about life or death. Hi have to live with the choice or lack of choice these children will have or parents being told advise by medics that may be wrong.
