

Abortion facilities are the most dangerous places in the world for babies and places where mothers' lives are at risk also, as abortion always entails risk.

What are 'the dangers' faced by mothers at these facilities?

She may see or hear something that might change her mind about killing her baby?

My friend said that if anyone had offered her an alternative she would have jumped at the offer; she would literally have jumped off that table where she was laid for the dismemberment of her baby.

We need more people/services to give mothers help to make life-affirming choices, not obstruct that help.
