Reduction to sentence following disclosure

Clauses 28 to 30 of the Bill deal with applying a reduction to the additional aggravating tariff where disclosure of the location or detailing what happened to a victim's remains is made post conviction. The principle is that the amount of any reduction will never exceed the aggravation applied at the point of sentencing but provides an incentive for the offender to disclose information about the victim's remains or how they were disposed of. Do you agree with the principles behind Clauses 28 to 30 of the Bill?

No

Please provide information to support your answer here::

If you murder someone it's a life for a life justice here in northern Ireland is a disgrace
