

To me it seems ridiculous to have disability discrimination laws in our land (which is right & proper) and yet to discriminate with the unborn.

To think that an unborn baby can be aborted just because he has Down's Syndrome or some other remedial disability is a dreadful injustice.

I know a man in his 40's who has Down's Syndrome-he is a joy to his family & to others who know him. I am quite sure the family would never have chosen for him to be annihilated.

All people are different and ALL life is precious.
