

AQW 19363/11-15

19 February 2013

Danny Kinahan

To ask the Minister of Education to detail the (i) maximum; and (ii) actual enrolment figures for each (a) nursery; and (b) reception class in 2012/13, broken down by Education and Library Board area.

The table provided details maximum permitted enrolments (as defined by enrolment numbers) at nursery settings (nursery schools and units) and provisional enrolment details for 2012/13 admissions based on the October 2012 school census.

The enrolment numbers relate to the total number of children who may be admitted, and make no distinction between those who are of target age, in their final pre-school year, and those who are 'under-age'.

Reception classes do not have a defined maximum enrolment due to the nature of reception provision, which is referenced to a primary school's admissions number, allowing reception age children to be admitted up to the limit imposed by that number. The table details reception classes solely made up of reception pupils, however, it should be noted that reception age pupils may also be enrolled, not in distinct reception classes, but in groups alongside pupils of compulsory school age.

In addition to the nursery provision detailed in this table a number of voluntary and private providers offer pre-school education funded through the Department's Pre-School Education Programme.
